dumb man, step forward and help Pierce to get on his feet, and also to take him to his tent. Mrs. Sawyer described Pierce's condition as being simply frightful. His face was bruised and battered and covered with blood.

Mary R. Fling was called for the people and testified that she came out of her tent in time to see Mrs. Rivers strike Pierce with a club. She subsequently heard Rivers say that Pierce had insulted his (Rivers') wife and that he had beat him for it.

John Collins was also called for the state, and he testified that he was in a neighboring tent when the quarrel between Rivers and Pierce was going on. He came out and saw Pierce hit Rivers in the cheek and then saw Rivers knock Pierce down. Mrs. Rivers belabored the prostrate man with her club.

The district attorney was somewhat taken aback at the testimony of this witness and claimed that a job had been put up on him. Referring to the striking of Rivers by Pierce he said that the defendant on his preliminary hearing had not testified to that.

Albert Jermak testified that he saw Pierce after the quarrel, and saw that he was badly bruised and bleeding; also that Pierce was a man of temperate habits. Mrs. Ada Jermak corroborated her husband's testimony.

MRS. ANNA BERRY, a near neighbor of Pierce was called and she testified that she had visited Pierce's tent after the fight. She corroborated the witness as to the demoralized condition of the deceased. She dressed his wounds in a simple manner and attended him all night. He appeared to be suffering intense pain as he moaned piteously all the time. She had the injured man removed to her own house, where he remained for two days. She saw Rivers after the fight and his hand was bleeding. The latter explained this by stating that he had struck Pierce after the latter had hit his wife.

Judge Elliott at this juncture announced that he felt disposed to go on with any more testimony as the oppressive atmosphere of the room had affected him very much. The jury was placed in charge of the court bailiffs, with instructions to keep them together. The following is a list of the jury-men: George A. Kettie, George Sister, Harvey C. Fry, G. W. Foster, A. B. Boris, G. F. Cheesman, N. A. Barker, B. F. Baldwin, James Tait, W. W. Knight, Robert Parham and B. Wakeman. The jury is the most intelligent, to all appearances, that has sat in any criminal case in the District court for a long time.

Parents and Wife Are Charged With Murder.

Victim of Their Brutality Lyman G. Pierce.

Witnesses of the Horrible Deed.

of the Murdered Man's Ribs Broken By Kicks.

When the District court met yesterday morning the court room was crowded almost to suffocation by a motley assemblage from the Bottoms. Every seat was occupied by men and women, and the center aisle was packed so as to make it an impossibility to enter or leave the room by the ordinary way. Those who could not find seats were not content with the view of the proceedings afforded by standing on the floor and peering themselves on the window sills and the railing which divides the mob from the court, reporters and jury. The cause of the gathering was the trial of Charles Rivers and his wife, Rosa Rivers, who stand indicted for the murder of Lyman G. Pierce. The accused pair were present and occupied seats near their counsel, Messrs. E. Browne and F. A. Newby. Charles is a short, thick-set, bilious-looking man with a remarkably low brow. His face is covered by a profusion of whiskers, and his eyes are pretty much of the same appearance, but has a more forbidding countenance. The people are represented in the court by District Attorney Luthe and his assistant, Mr. Shafroth. The crime for which Rivers and his wife were indicted was committed on Sunday, February 15, 1882, in front of the tent home of a man named Noonan, residing on the Bottoms.

THE MURDERED MAN

occupied a small tent or shanty close to a Noonan place, and, on account of his violent nature, was well known all over the Bottoms, and was a universal terror. On the day named, while he was sitting in his tent with a pail of beer, he and his wife, who were about to be visited by the Noonans, Rivers claims that he made an insulting proposition to a number of affidavits from prominent citizens of Cotopaxi and vicinity which go to prove the utter falsity of the charges. One of these is by George Smilger, manager of the Grand Canon Lumber company, in which the condition of the Jewish immigrants in the employ of Mr. Salthiel is described as being as good as is usually met with among mining employes and in which it is emphatically stated that no want exists among them. Another is from George W. Meyer, constable at Cotopaxi, who describes the houses of the immigrants as being better than his own and their condition as being prosperous.

MERCY BY METHOD.

Devising Systematic Means for the Relief of Worthy Poor.

The same idea that caused the distribution of the circulars which have been handed to business men calling attention to the necessity for systematizing charity led to a meeting at the St. James last night. The attendance was not large but represented a solid class of citizens who have an interest in the matter.

The theory is that beggary and its relief can be reduced to a system which will relieve the worthy, expose the deadbeats and secure people from annoyance. Societies with these ends in view have been in operation in Buffalo, Boston and Philadelphia for some time and been very successful in every respect.

Mr. A. H. Estes presided at the meeting and having devoted considerable thought to the subject succeeded in making a very interesting address of an hour and a half, interspersed with extracts from the by-laws in force elsewhere which he would like to see adopted in Denver. The society as planned will be a general head of all the charitable institutions of the city, collecting its own funds, but disbursing them through the Ladies' Relief, as well as the Jewish and Catholic benevolent organizations. It is designed to have a paid officer who shall devote his whole time to looking up the needy and reporting upon their cases, of which a public record will be kept. People are to be helped to get work and will not be supported in idleness. The county commissioners, of whom Messrs. Shreve and Londoner were present, have tendered the free use of a room in the new county building.

There was considerable talk and quite an entertaining recital of experiences, which occupied the time until about 10 o'clock, when it was decided to transact some business. On motion of Mr. McClintock a committee of two was appointed on by-laws, this committee being Messrs. McClintock and Londoner. Mr. Estes was afterward
