

PUEBLO. COL.

This city contains about twenty Hebrew families, who have already established lodges, clubs, etc., among them the I. O. B. B. Lodge, No. 331, also a young ladies' society, named the S. S. S. Society, composed of ten members and devoted mostly to charity. This club gave a benefit ball for the Russian refugees at Cotopaxi, Col., which proved a success, both socially and financially. The net proceeds, seventy five dollars, will be sent to Mr. Herman Silver, Chairman of the Cotopaxi Relief Committee, at Denver. Not alone for outside parties has this club striven, but it has made many home improvements, among which is the repairing of the Hebrew burial-ground.

The I. O. B. B. Lodge gave a very elegant ball here on Purim, which was a very enjoyable affair. The supper which was given by the ladies was truly a feast, and champagne flowed freely. Mr. M. Friedman, President of the Lodge, responded in a most fitting manner to the congratulatory toasts made by his many friends present on the success of the ball and the flourishing condition of the Lodge.

Many enjoyable parties and amateur theatricals are given by the Pleasure-seekers, a club consisting of about twenty couples of the Hebrew young ladies and gentlemen.

A very pleasant party was held last Sunday eve at the residence of Mr. S. Arkush, on Ninth Street. The guests were entertained with music and dancing; and after supper (which was one of the features of the evening) games were indulged in until a late hour, when all went home, feeling greatly pleased with the evening's amusement.

Another party will be held at Misses Fisk's, on Tenth Street, next Sunday eve.
April 12, 1883. PUEBLO.